Elvis Talks And World Listens

Rock 'n' Roll "High Priest" Presley talks into microphones thrust at him by radio men at a press conference. Courier and Times Staff Writer Jane Gray (left) sticks by her summation of the Dixie boy, "He is absolutely the most." Newsmen kept the hip-twister busy talking nearly an hour after the curtain was scheduled to rise.

Postal Service Funds Seen For Summerfield

Delivery Cut Postponed For 1 Week

Mounting Pressure From Public Puts Congress On Spot

WASHINGTON (UP)—Congress today appeared ready to loosen the national purse strings next week to keep Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield from drastically cutting postal service.

Summerfield has in effect given the House Appropriations Committee a week of grace to give his department an emergency 47 million dollars appropriation or take responsibility for causing the service cuts.

The committee, which only wanted to give him 17 million dollars, was expected to capitulate under the mounting public pressure. It scheduled a meeting next Friday to decide what to do.

Summerfield had been expected to issue the orders effective today to curtail service including a stop to all Saturday mail deliveries and Saturday post office window service. But late Friday he scheduled the cutback for next Saturday.

Denies "Week's Grace"

He insisted at a news conference that he was not giving Congress "a week's grace" to give him the money.

But he acted after the Appropriations Committee decided to give him the 17 million dollars and promised to consider the other 30 million dollars next Friday. He also said the cutback would be called off if the committee action is "favorable."

Committee member John J. Rooney (D-N.Y.) predicted the committee would approve all or almost all of the 47 million dollars. He said yesterday's voting indicated that.

But Rooney indicated the hard feelings against Summerfield would not soon subside. Summerfield has been accused of "sand-bagging" Congress and "holding a gun" at its head.

Confident Of Support

Summerfield has said he is "confident" that if given the opportunity Congress will support him. He said the majority of the Appropriations Committee stood with him on the matter.

But that excludes Committee Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) who has made it clear he will put up a sharp fight next Friday to hold new funds down to the 17 million dollars recommended by the subcommittee. Cannon would not predict the outcome.

Summerfield said the increased volume of mail and the expansion of services to nearly one million new homes accounts for much of the drain on post office funds. In addition, he said postal pay increases were voted by Congress after the new budget went into effect last year.

The Kaid

To the Scottish Lark family he was known as the Kaid, an ancestor who became a Barbary pirate two centuries ago. To the inhabitants of an island off Tunisia he was revered as Al Merhametsiz, the Pitiless. When a descendant, Allan Lark, seeks to learn more about this relation, strange things happen to him. Love Me Tender

Presley 'Sends' Fans Into Ecstatic Tizzy And Trance

By JANE GRAY
Courier and Times Staff Writer
Elvis is absolutely THE MOST!! Just got back from a press conference in his dressing room at the Philadelphia Arena and hope

Good Evening!

Blue skies mighty welcome.

Quite a bundle of weather the past few days with that amazing quickie fog lift late yesterday nearly a phenomenon.

You suppose maybe the weatherman could hold it gentle-like the next week?

Postmaster General Summerfield postpones vital postal service cuts until next week as he and the House Appropriations Committee continue a battle over funds and we'll say this:

If Summerfield goes through with his ridiculous threats making travesty of one of America's essential government services he should be promptly fired by President Eisenhower.

Such dictatorial attitudes are completely inconsistent with the public welfare in America. And the people are already beginning to show their revulsion to the postmaster general's inane position.

Well, what do you know! There's our ol' Slamm'n' Sammy Snead sitting right on top of the heap down at Augusta, leading the Masters by two strokes at the end of the second day.

Too early to predict with assurance that he'll win this one again, what with Jimmy Demaret and Jackie Burke strongest contenders, but the Slammer has put himself into beautiful position for tomorrow's payoff.

That wasn't a storm hitting this big Philadelphia region last night. No sir, it was your friend Elvis.

If the Arena was bedlam yesterday, what do you suppose it will be before today is ended? And before we graybeards throw our hands up in horror, maybe we'd better spend a few minutes remembering the mad 20's.

We still prefer the kids screaming at Presley to sneaking into the greasy speaker's es.

If you're driving during the weekend (the man who's supposed to know promises fair and mild weather) take it easy, huh?

Go to church tomorrow.

I can calm down enough to write the story... 'cause Elvis shakes me all up!

About 20 reporters attended, most of them young... some of them gals, and all of them excited and impressed by Elvis' personality and willingness to cooperate.

We threw all kinds of questions at him... "How do you feel about Calypso music?" He answered that while he personally likes it, he doesn't feel that it will get bigger than Rock and Roll.

(Calypso or rock... all the same to me, long as it's Elvis!)

In answer to the inevitable, "What was your most thrilling experience?" Elvis answered, "Making 'Love Me Tender'... although I didn't care for the script and don't want to play a cowboy anymore."

On August 1st, Elvis will start work on his new picture. He'll play a prisoner and have his hair cut... and lose his sideburns.

Speaking of sideburns, we asked how he feels about people copying his hair style. He said that he's complimented that they do.

He doesn't mind the way the gals yell when he sings, either. "Covers up my mistakes," he explained with a laugh. He also said that his two favorite recordings were "Don't Be Cruel" and "All Shook Up."

As far as other recording stars are concerned, Elvis is frank in his admiration. He enjoys the work of the Four Lads, the Four Aces, Pat Boone, Bing Crosby and Mario Lanza. If our heads hadn't been spinning someone probably would have asked him about GIRL singers!

Anyway, we did ask if he had a girl... or any romantic ties, and he said, "No special girl." He explained, he hasn't had time to relax in three years, either.

This brought to mind the conservation of energy question and we said, "Can you sing without wiggling, Elvis?" "Sure," he

Press Search For 'Bombers'

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Police today extended a search for two men following the arrest of two others on charges they cremated five men and a woman with flaming gasoline in a quiet neighborhood bar.

Clyde Bates, 36, an ex-convict, and Oscar Brenhaug, 44, were arrested within a few hours after the tiny Club Mocca burst into flames late Wednesday. They were booked on suspicion of murder.

Witnesses said four men had been ousted from the bar for annoying a woman patron and returned later, pouring a five-gallon bucket of gasoline into the cocktail lounge. Then one of them tossed a small ball of fire—probably a burning match book—into the fuel.

Park Board Sees Silver Lake Area

Members of the Bucks County Park Board yesterday afternoon visited Silver Lake to discuss the proposed county park in advance of the Monday night board meeting.

With Chairman Claud Bowen were Abram Popkin, of the board, Robert Pierson, executive director, Bristol township Commissioner Harold Lefcourt and Bristol Burgess Anthony R. Niccol. Mr. Bowen said the board will discuss plans for immediate development of the lake Monday night. The development awaits action by the state legislature to convey the lake and its bordering lands from the State Fish Commission to the county board.

Ike's Fired Caddy 'Hurt'

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP)—Willie Frank (Cemetery) Perteet, a sad-eyed shuffling caddy by day but a bouncy drummer boy at night, demands a "retraction" today as to why he was "dethroned" as golf-club chooser for President Eisenhower.

Cemetery has been succeeded by Slim Jackson, another Negro and assistant caddy master at the Augusta National Golf Course where the Masters Tournament is now being played. Mr. Eisenhower has a cottage on the course and will be here this month.

Ed Dudley, Augusta National pro, made the change. He said Cemetery was replaced because he was getting a little old and had a hard time keeping pace with Mr. Eisenhower, who tees up and shoots while his partners are still taking practice swings.

Storm Dies Across U.S. After Havoc

East Gets Brunt Of Death Lash Before Letup

By UNITED PRESS

The spring storm that ravaged most of the nation with deadly tornadoes and high gales appeared to be dying out today.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Chicago reported the letup but said it was accompanied by steep jumps and drops in the mercury columns.

The expiring lash of the storm's tail, however, snapped at the eastern half of the nation last night. Winds of 90 mph velocity howled down Toledo, Ohio streets, lifted a Lakes freighter from its moorings and wrenched out at least 50 power lines.

A United Press tally revealed a total of 45 weather-caused deaths during the past week.

Tornadoes were responsible for 19 of these fatalities. There were 11 in Texas, five in Oklahoma, two in Georgia and one in Mississippi.

Court Nixes Guilty Plea By Deiter

Sentence Deferred On Accomplice In Machine Thefts

A guilty plea was withdrawn from one man and sentence was deferred on another in Bucks County court yesterday after the two pleaded guilty to stealing typewriters and adding machines in Bristol and Bensalem Townships.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite refused to accept the guilty plea of Edward C. Deiter, 31, of 412 Court A, Bristol Terrace 2, to charges of burglary and larceny. Deiter admitted helping Frank J. Churchray, 15 Schumacker Drive, Bristol Terrace 1, steal the machines, but he denied that he entered the buildings from which they were taken.

Judge Satterthwaite held him for grand jury action and criminal court jury trial.

Sentence was deferred on Churchray until a later date. The two men admitted taking

Kaiser Theft Draws Fine

A Cornwells Heights man was fined $250 and placed on 23 months probation yesterday after pleading guilty to larceny of material from Kaiser Metal Products, Bristol.

William C. Bavier, 1352 School Lane, admitted to Judge I. Louis Rubin that he stole 99 sheets of 30 by 31-inch stainless steel from Kaiser on March 6.

An accomplice, Louis Valenti, 412 Logan St., Bristol, is scheduled to plead guilty at a later date.

Bristol township police said Valenti supplied the car used to haul the steel and served as "lookout." Two off-duty township patrol

Truck Starts Chain Mishap

A four-vehicle accident in which no one was injured resulted, however, in extensive damage to two cars and a trailer truck, while a third car was totally wrecked.

The accident occurred yesterday at 2:25 p.m. on U.S. Rt. 1 at Olds Blvd.

The trailer truck was driven by Richard A. Seyfert, 425 E. Maple St., Lebanon, who was traveling west and attempted to stop for the traffic light when the brakes failed.

It slid into a new car driven by Lee Strzelecki, 40 Locust Ave., Passaic, N. J., and then skidded into a car driven by Louis H.

Bucks Candidates And Offices Listed

Names of primary candidates for local offices in all communities from Morrisville, alphabetically, through Yardley, were obtained from the county board of elections office yesterday.

Drawings for positions on each political party's ballot were held this week. Two or more candidates for a single office were involved in the drawings.

Candidates for contested offices will be listed in the order in which their names appear on the ballot, and the names of uncontested candidates will also be listed.

Presley Meets Press

Elvis (with back to camera at left) talks to some 60 reporters, photographers and radio men back-stage at the arena prior to facing an audience of some several thousand teenage admirers. Bensalem Removes Wink As Roads Superintendent

By MAURY ALLEN
Courier and Times Staff Writer

Bensalem Township's political pot boiled anew with the ouster of Raymond Wink from his superintendence of roads job yesterday.

At a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors, a motion made by the newest supervisor, Mrs. May Clee, was seconded by Joseph Murdock.

Wink did not vote on the motion.

This completes the cycle that has hit all three of Bensalem's supervisors this year.

Murdock, Brenner

Murdock was ousted from his job as secretary treasurer and former supervisor Raymond Brenner resigned as an outgrowth of the turmoil.

Wink stays on his job of supervisor.

The special meeting was opened by board chairman Wink presenting a letter asking he be placed "on a leave of absence until Jan. 1, 1958 from the road job."

"Personal Differences"

Wink's letter said "the welfare of the township government is being threatened by continued personal differences. In an effort to create harmony, I request the leave of absence without pay."

Wink's letter added that "the

Senators Put On Red Spot

WASHINGTON (UP) — Chief counsel Robert Morris of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee said today not he but eight senators made public Communist charges against a Canadian diplomat who then committed suicide.

Morris denied there was any need for a Senate investigation of the subcommittee staff, which he heads, in connection with the publication of the charges.

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) demanded yesterday that the Senate set up a bipartisan committee "to inquire into the circumstances of the publication by the staff . . . of charges against the reputation of the late Canadian Ambassador Herbert Norman, which have become the cause of a rift" with Canada.

Norman leaped to his death in Cairo Thursday. His suicide touched off a wave of resentment against the subcommittee not only in Canada but in Britain and Egypt as well. One Canadian legislator went so far as to say Norman was "murdered by slander."

The Canadian government received messages of condolence from Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, Britain's High Commissioner to Canada Sir Saville Garner, and French Ambassador to Canada Francis LaCoste.

Deepening Begins On The Delaware Channel

Dredge Shoves Mud, Rocks In Mid-River

The long-awaited, much-debated deep Delaware River channel project is already under way offshore from Lower Bucks County, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers announced today.

Since last Sunday the dredging barge Gahagen V has been anchored in the mid-Delaware in sight of the docks of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co., Cornwells Heights, digging into the river bottom. The job would have started ten days earlier, but for a breakdown in the machinery.

The Gahagen is a 27-inch hydraulic dredge, which means it digs the river mud at a speed and volume that permits it to ooze through a 27-inch pipe. The pipe, resting on pontoons, conveys the mud to a disposal area on the New Jersey shore near Beverly.

Second Barge to Work

The channel section on which work started Sunday extends upstream from Philadelphia city line to the mouth of Neshaminy Creek. Within a few weeks a second barge will be at work, removing river mud near the creek mouth and piping it to a disposal area on the old Logan Estate, in Eddington.

The dredges will dig down to 37 feet, unless their cutterheads are blocked by a stone river bottom. If that happens, later contractors will blast their way down to complete the project.

Under funds allotted last year by Congress, a 35-foot channel will be dredged upstream past the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel Corp. However, business and civic interests are hoping that later contracts will increase the depth to 40 feet while the dredges and blasters are still on the job.

Depends On Congress

Just how much further and how fast the work will go, however, depends on what budget Congress will pass this year.

The local dredge is named for its owners, Gahagen Dredging Corp., of New York, sub-contractors for Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Co., of New York.

The channel project is under the direction of the Army Engineers' Philadelphia District office. District engineer is Col. Allen F. Clark, Jr. Nicholas Barbieri, resident engineer on the project, operates from the Burlington Ordnance Depot. Assistant resident engineer is John Cronin.

a typewriter and adding machine from U. S. Plumbing Supply Co., 10th Ave. and Beaver Dam Road, Bristol Township, on March 16, valued at $800.

They also admitted the theft of a typewriter and adding machine from the Cornwells Chemical Co., Bensalem, on March 6, valued at $985.

Machines Sold

Deiter said the latter two machines were sold to Vincent Brescia, 20 Schoolhouse Lane, Levittown, for $50, and that Brescia knew they were "hot."

Brescia has resigned as a justice of the peace candidate since being involved in the crime. He is charged with receiving stolen goods.

Deiter said that on the night of the Cornwells burglary, he didn't know what Churchray was planning until they got to the company. He said he refused to enter the building but took the machines as Churchray handed them out the window.

U.S. Supply

He said Churchray had already burglarized U. S. Supply on March 16 before getting him to transport those machines.

Deiter was picked up by police a week later, when they spotted the machines in the trunk of his car at a car wash.

Calims Entries

Churchray, who freely admitted the burglaries, insisted that Deiter entered both buildings with him and knew the plans of the burglaries before hand.

The burglaries were investigated by State, Bristol, and Bensalem Township police. Deiter and Churchray were represented by Attorney Charles Fink, Levittown, who was appointed by the court.

Twp. Pupils Start Work On Festival

Students and teachers of the Bristol Township Elementary schools have started to work on the fourth annual Music Festival.

The program will be given two evenings, May 8 and 9 and will include approximately 1500 students.

Festival Theme

Mr. Domenick Arcuri, music supervisor, has announced that this year's theme, "Out Of This World" will give each school in the district an opportunity to select a topic from the world of fantasy as their contribution to the festival.

The schools have made the following selections: Ralph Waldo Emerson and Lafayette Schools, "Wizard of Oz," Edgely Area Schools, "Snow White," Thomas

Jefferson School, "Sleeping Beauty," Croydon Area Schools, "The King and I," Maple Shade-George Clymer Area Schools, "Hans Christian Anderson" and the John Fitch School, "Cinderella."

Teachers Chairmen

Each school has selected two classroom teachers as chairmen who are preparing their particular phase of the program with the assistance of the school faculties and parents. The music department is coordinating the overall program.

Parents, teachers and children are joining hands to make costumes, scenery, and to learn the dances and the music from the individual stories.

The festival promises to be one of the most spectacular programs of the year.

Doctrine Gets Lebanon OK

The tiny Mediterranean nation of Lebanon today became the first Arab state to give parliamentary approval of the Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East.

By a 30-2 vote the Lebanese legislature endorsed the March 16 action of its government in wholeheartedly accepting the U.S. plan to combat Communist infiltration in Middle Eastern countries.

The parliamentary action prompted the resignations of four members who protested Lebanon was turning its back on concerted action with other Arab states.

But Lebanon, half Christian and half Moslem, is the most westernized of the Arab nations and the protest was not likely to have any great effect on the government.

More Disunity Reported

Another report of disunity among the Arab nations came from Amman. Diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said King Hussein of Jordan has served notice on Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia that unless they honor their obligations to replace Britain's annual subsidy he will accept American aid.

On the other side of the ledger a joint Egyptian-Sudanese communique issued in Cairo said Sudan had endorsed Egypt's policy of "positive neutrality" and non-alignment with either the East or the West.

Cloudy, Cool This Weekend

Cloudy and cool weather was forecast for Pennsylvania today with some snow flurries in the western half of the state.

A cold front moving off the Atlantic Coast brought unstable cooler air with fresh westerly winds into the state today, resulting in the cloudy conditions and drops in temperature.

High temperatures will be in the 50's in the southeast portion and in the 40's elsewhere today. Tonight is expected to be fair and cooler with lowest in the 30's.

Generally fair to partly cloudy weather was forecast for tomorrow with some snow flurries still lingering in the western half of the state. Highest temperatures that day will be in the 40's to low 50's.

Outlook for Monday is for fair and warmer weather.

Elvis Rocks; Fans Roll

answered, "but what would it prove?"

Someone asked how he feels about the people who ridicule him. Elvis shrugged and answered, "You can't please everybody!"

This, in turn, brought out a question about the recent story about him that rain in "Confidential" magazine. He turned this into a general bit of hilarity by saying, "I don't even know the girl they talked about . . . but she sounds like a real gone date!"

But Elvis has a hobby that the expose magazines aren't interested in. He confided that, despite the highly publicized Cadillac, he's really got it for motorcycles, and spends the best part of his time at home beatin' up the highways on them.

Incidentally, he's driving the yellow Caddy in Philadelphia this trip and his fans practically removed the top while snatching swatches for souvenirs.

Winding up the conference on a more serious note, someone asked Elvis about his personal philosophy on life. He feels that life is very short and personal happiness is up to the individual. "I try to get along with everyone and not hurt anybody," he said.

Tape recorders clacked away taking down every precious word of this American Idol while he sat on a table, relaxed and cool . . . real cool . . . wearing a sports jacket, black trousers and white buck shoes.

I suppose I should say that he "looked just like the boy next door . . ." but when he walked into the room, hitched a hip on the table and said, "Hi!" He didn't look like anything in this world . . . he just looked like that ever lovin' Elvis, and . . . strictly out of this world!

Windham Estate Set At $77,820

The estate of Charles F. Windham, Lower Makefield Township, was valued at $77,820 in an inventory filed yesterday in the county register of wills office.

Mr. Windham died at the age of 73 on Jan. 4. His will, probated earlier, left a $10,000 cash grant to his wife, Nora B. Windham, 7 Shelley Ave., Morrisville, and $5,000 each to his son, Charles S., and his daughter, Lillian.

Two Youths Sentenced In Burglaries

Two youths who yesterday pleaded guilty to four burglaries were sent to prison and a state industrial school.

Richard Isbert, 18, of 816 Pennsylvania Ave., Croydon, was committed to the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Camp Hill for an indefinite period.

William P. Gavin, 22, of 1013 State road, Croydon, was sentenced to a total of six months to a year in prison.

Consecutive

He received two consecutive sentences of three to six months from Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite.

Both have previous police records.

They admitted three Bristol township and one Bensalem Township burglaries between Oct. 17 and Nov. 2.

Sgt. Charles Haines, Bristol township police, said Isbert was arrested Dec. 12 following investigation of a burglary at the Ritz Theater, Croydon, on Oct. 17.

Gavin was questioned on Feb. 21, after his release from prison on another charge.

Edgely Burglaries

Gavin admitted he and Isbert burglarized Hillside Tavern and Windsor TV, both in Edgely, on Nov. 1 and later admitted burglarizing a Bensalem service station on Nov. 2.

Police said more than 50 bottles of wine and whiskey, plus change from vending machines, was taken from the tavern, and portable radio was taken from Windsor TV.

VFW Post Plans 1st Dance Tonight

Fairless Hills Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7296 will hold its first weekly dance tonight. The Saturday dances will be held each week from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. with music being furnished by a string band and juke box.

The dances will take place at the VFW post home in Fairless Hills, located next to Thriftmart. The Ladies Auxiliary will have the kitchen open for short orders and sandwiches. Part of the funds derived from the dances will go toward building a permanent VFW post home.
